Thought, Action, & Dialogue Mountain

Directions: Describe the event using thought, action, and dialogue. Please be sure that the thoughts, action, and dialogue match the theme you are trying to teach readers.

The graphic organizer consists of three nested mountain shapes. The top mountain is the largest, the middle is smaller, and the bottom is the smallest. Each mountain has a rectangular box on its left side connected to its left slope. The boxes are labeled 'ACTION', 'DIALOGUE', and 'INNER THINKING' from top to bottom. Below the mountains is a large rectangular area enclosed by a dashed line. Inside this area, at the top left, is the text 'What is your overall theme/lesson learned/moral of the story?'. There are small square markers at the corners and along the dashed line.
